DEDICATED TO THE MEMORY OF
G. GLENN SPRAGUE

Vice-Principal, counselor, and friend, whose inspiring example of unfaltering courage, simplicity of life and devotion to occupation will ever remain in our memories of Goshen High School.

"Out of the strain of the Doing,
    Into the peace of the Done;
Out in the thirst of the Pursuing,
    Into the rapture of Won.
Out of the grey mist into brightness,
    Out of pale dusk into Dawn . . ."

and a dazzling burst of radiance.

Faculty

... "and how do you expect to graduate?"

"Now if we could fill in this space here."

"Well, now really!"

"Sit down, Peter, and be a dear."

"Whatayawant, detention?"

Senior Play

One of the finest productions presented in the GCS auditorium in many years made its debut December 2, 1950. The production was Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer Prize winning play "Our Town," presented by the Class of '51. The highly dramatic and stirring play entailed much work and rewarding pleasure for the cast, as well as an evening full of laughs and tears for the audience. The large cast of twenty-four was made up of choice talent selected from the Senior Class and included guest performances by Mary Luft and Jack Geiger. Rehearsals for the play were launched early in October under the direction of Charles R. Hayes, to whom we give our gratitude for his guidance and patience, and continued till opening night, when, midst grease paint and cornstarch, the show went on!

The friendly and casual Stage Manager, played by Bill Boley, used the imagination of the audience to set the stage for the play and then continued from the sidelines to relate the story of a small town and its people, their pleasures and sorrows, their story.

Leota Makuen and I played the wives of the town's Newspaper Editor—Phil Suresky, and town Doctor—Al Bonauto, respectively. We had a great, but confusing time keeping our imaginary stoves chucked with wood. My family consisted of a daughter, Sally Harkema, and a gangling teenage son, Phil Coates. Phil spent his days playing baseball—that is, until Betty Love, Leota and Phil's oldest, got after him. It was over a soda at Fran Phillip's drugstore that they decided to get married . . . Difficult for Fran to remember not to drop those soda glasses in mid-air . . . I never enjoyed a wedding as much as I did Phil and Betty's. Phil was really the nervous groom, why not? Betty was fully a minute late, the typical bride. I was not the only one who enjoyed that event—ask Dorris Brown any time, she'd be glad to tell you. The third act called for quite a bit of self-control for us dead people, but in spite of the "goof offs" here and there, it was a great success.

I remember: Stan Liseski calling his horse Bessie, Jack Robertson locking up the town, Bob McGarry throwing imaginary newspapers, and those people who asked questions from the audience—Jo Anne Werner, Charles Maly, and Dorris Brown. Music was furnished by Choirmaster Kinsella's group . . . Joan-Marie Mandato, Margie Deegan, Lois Tice, Hazel Brola, Tony Monastro, and Jack Molnar. Jack Callahan took charge of burials and looked the part . . . How well I remember. And Cam Barbuti, Marion Lippert, and Joan Bende prompting to make sure . . . It was fun . . .

"Mother of the Groom"

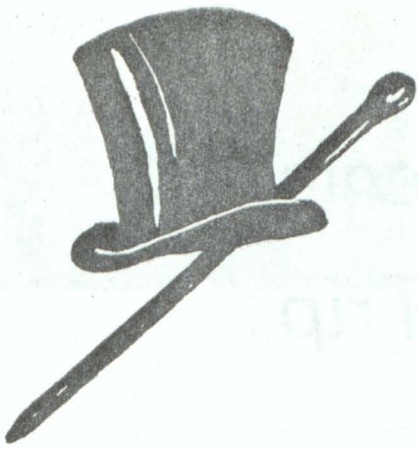

"Ya know, Emily . . .
I been doin' a lot of thinking lately and . . ."

"Frank, what do you do to your collars, gnaw 'em?"

"And once in a thousand times it's interesting."

Goshen Seniors Hit Boston

On March 26th, the day after Easter, complete with new bonnets and cameras, we hopped down to the bus and were off for Boston . . . First stop was the Nutmeg State, and its capital, Hartford . . . Then visited the Wayside Country Store . . . Picked up souvenirs . . . Then . . . BEAN TOWN arose before us . . . Arrived at respective hotels, Bradford and Touraine . . . Staggered into hotel lobbies . . . Girls stopping to flirt with doorman . . . After a short "rest period," we ate at Patten's. Since it was our "free night," the girls escorted the boys to the "Casino," then left to take in a movie . . . Returned to hotel . . . Tried to sleep . . . impossible . . . boys were guzzling it down . . . they kept calling up . . . ("Alphonse the Lover") . . . such fun!!

Met "Windy" Winn . . . Escorted us on our tour of Boston . . . especially emphasizing the cul-tur-al areas, the Frog Pond (minus the frogs!), and the Old North Church, where we sang "America" to the accompaniment of the oldest organ in Boston . . . Visited the State House . . . Beacon Street very impressive . . . especially the lavender windows . . . Lunch at Durgin Park excellent, except for occasional odors and the refuse cans passing the window . . . At Bunker Hill, climbed 294 steps to the top of the monument . . . Such fun going down . . .

"Thanks for the tip."

"Are ya sure you'll win?"

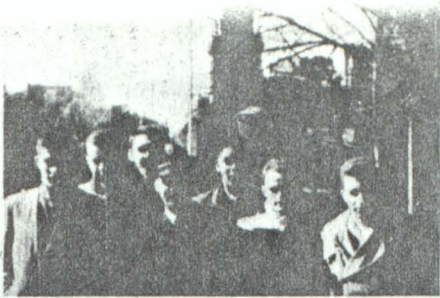

"So this is Boston, eh?"
The wheels roll in and take over Beantown

Marked women.

"Where did we take this picture, anyway?"

Wha' happened to Howard and Betty? . . . Then to "Old Ironsides" . . . "Eyes right," down the ladders . . . Oh, those shy sailors! . . . Dinner at Steubens . . . Proceeded to see "It's About Time" . . . such hysterics! . . . especially the remodeling of a male patron's ear by certain senior girls . . . Brother, those massages . . . Back to the hotel and 17/8 hours sleep . . .

Slept late the third day . . . Loaded into the bus . . . off for grand old Harvard . . . Visited Peabody Museum . . . glass flowers, fascinating, and the animals, intriguing . . .

We meet the living at Fanuel Hall

. . . and the dead on "filled in land."

After sumptuous meal at Durgin Park, we line up for extra rations.

Old romances never die, they just fade . . .

Phillips Brookes Library ver-ry ed-u-ca-tion-al . . . The Mark One too complicating . . . Oh! what we could have done with the money used for the modernistic statue . . . Food . . . Then to the Colonial Theatre to see "Member of The Wedding" . . . Tres Bon . . . Off to the Touraine for Betty's birthday party . . . CHAPERONES? but of course! Then to the girls' hotel . . . Circus Room . . . Sleep badly needed . . . but who cared?

"I say, old boy, dated for tonight?"

Last day . . . fell out of bed . . . cleaned up rooms . . . bid adieu to bellboys and management . . . Visited Lexington and Concord, and the Minute Man . . . Love and Brown serenaded with about 300 songs coming home . . . Stopped at the delightful Curtis House for dinner . . . Very foggy . . . but Howard delivered us safely . . . great guy . . . Arrived in Goshen . . . rainy and gloomy . . . still glad to be home . . . FINIS.

Tired but happy

A Letter From A Foxhole

APO 842: MAGNATRONOVGRAD USSRFD:

A last desperate puff on a stale cigarette seemed to give a slight memory of home. Two hundred yards ahead of me was the forest which hid the invisible enemy. I wanted to get up and run but realized that if I did, a rain of bullets would be fired until one of the deadly missiles found its mark. No, I had too much to live for back home to allow myself to be killed. I just had to live. I felt something around my feet and without looking down, I fumbled to find it. My wallet . . . there was Mother and Dad. Now She was there . . . I wonder if I'll ever see her again! I flipped to my graduation class photo; seemed only yesterday that we talked about the future. What had the future been for us?

Charles "Maule Mol" Maly, the battling light-heavyweight champ of the world, is temporarily retired from the ring. Being a patriotic lad, he joined the U.S. Navy and is now fighting for much bigger stakes. Then there's Jack Robertson next to Chas. He was given a medical discharge and established his own civil engineering business. His last job was to survey the North Woods. He has not been seen for four years. Jack Fraser upset prior dope and fooled his classmates by marrying an oil heiress. He is now considered quite wealthy and owns one of the fanciest "small" houses in Painted Pony, Oklahoma.

Still standing together, only this time in the bonds of matrimony, are Leota Makuen and Ed Hernandez. They now have three offspring and are successful in the banking business out West. Among the society girls is Betty Love. She married a Princeton man, divorced him two years later, and is now reported seen with an actor from Hollywood.

A bullet passing inches from me every few moments made me realize that amidst the still, cool palms, death lurks for a victim. My mind thought of others, such as John Mayo. He moved to a western town and has surpassed his father and became a U.S. Marshal. John is now known as "Lanky John, gun-totin' lawman." His former Colgate College companion, Phil Suresky, is now president of the Chrysler Corporation. Among the "Strong men" of the class is James Jones. Jim went on with his Sunday School record and became a minister of the Campbell Hall Presbyterian Church.

My muscles were tightening up and I felt like stretching. Without thinking, I moved. Suddenly, I felt a sharp pain in my shoulder and everything went black.

"How are you feeling? Do you feel weak?" Everything seemed hazy. Slowly my mind was clearing, and I could see the shape of a girl in white. Why it's Joan Bende! "What are you doing here?" "Why, I'm assigned to be your special nurse." As she spoke, another woman entered the room. Suddenly I realized it was Joan Marie Mandato. She spoke with the intelligence of many years of study in the medical field. As my doctor, she advised me to take a 45-day leave at home. Time passed quickly and within a short time I was home.

As I stepped off the train into Goshen's station, I stopped with amazement. I stood there concentrating on the printing in huge letters. Bill Boley starring in "North Atlantic!!" This pleased me very much for we all knew that Bill had the ability to be a success as a musical actor. A blare of trumpets and the cheers of a crowd announced the excitement of a parade. As I stepped out of the station to catch a glimpse of the procession, I saw that Alphonse Bonauto, the youngest democratic mayor of Goshen, was giving his usual pre-parade speech. At his side was Phil Coates, a marine sergeant. I walked closer into the crowd and tapped a fellow on the shoulder to ask of the deed that "Tex" had done. "Why, Frank Grippe, how are you?" "Hi, Bob. How long have you been home?" "I just arrived on the last train. Say, what are you doing these days?" "Well, I gave up the industrial arts program and became a farmer." "Hey, Frank, what did Phil do that was so great?" "Oh, it seems he cleaned out a stronghold of the enemy single-handed, when all the rest of his tank crew was out of commission." "Gee, that's swell. Well, I'll have to be moving along now. Bye, Frank."

I casually walked away from the crowd. I walked down the street that had a great many memories for me. As I came to Robinson's store I decided to get the Independent Republican. I went into Zoby's to get a coke and read the paper. I glanced through the politics, the war, the sports section. Then my eyes caught the gossip column edited by Barbara Briski. In this column there were many surprises. These facts were revealed: Jack Callaban and Margaret Cathro are co-starring in a new musical. Jack is another Rudolph Valentino, and Maggie is a wonderful singer. Now on tour with their instructor, Jack Molnar. Lorraine Minkus is now modeling for Sears Roebuck and turned down an offer from the "Petty Girl Modeling Corp." Ronald Bally has made his second million from his cleaning establishment in New Hampton. Ronld Kinsella is deliriously happy with his marriage to Connie Decker. The two of them are striving to raise a wrestling team. Ronnie will be the manager, Connie will be the Business manager. Lorraine Helboski announces her engagement to Rockerfeller 3rd. After being a secretary for ten years she finally married the boss.

Well this column sure took the cake! I glanced at my watch and saw I had three minutes to catch my bus to Denton. Whew! Made it in 30 seconds and here comes the bus already. As I stepped into the bus I noticed the driver looked familiar. I couldn't quite place the face. Then it dawned on me. Stan Liseski. "Hi, Stan." "Why you old son-of-a-gun, McGarry! How ya been." "Can't kick. I see you kept up your driving ability." "You mean this? It's only part time, I race at the Victory Speedway with Art Soons. We're partners in a couple of stock cars up there. I s'pose you're going home to Janet and the four little infants." "That's right. See you around, Stan. Here's where I get off." Stepping off the bus I glanced at the general store which was proprietored by Ernest Cree-den. I strolled into the store for the purpose of getting an ice cream cone. While enjoying my cone I overheard a news report . . .

"This is Sally Harkema bringing to you an up-to-the-minute news cast through the courtesy of "Mar-Mul's Skating Rink" owned by Marg-jorie Mulhair. Featured there tonight are Lois Tice and Margery Deegan, that popular skating team, giving a command performance of fancy skating. Present will be the well-known lady wrestler Francesca Phillips. Now for the news. The honorable Dorris Brown has succeeded Katherine B. St. George as Congresswoman from the 21st district. The Arthur Murray dance studio has recently acquired a new dance teacher, Dorothy Smith. She is one of the best dance teachers in the East. Miss Marion Myruski has just been awarded the 7th annual award for onion pullers. The famous Powers model, Camille Barbuti, has been sent to France to model an exquisite line of French dresses and gowns. The famous portrait and sculpture model, Bert-Mary Coon, will accompany her.

On the lighter side of the news we have a few celebrities in the picture. Mrs. John Ford, the former Mary Martin, has brought forth her first child. It seems that the Ford name will continue on for it was a baby boy. Anthony Monastra, the Pizza Pie King, has entered his son in prep-school. The reason is to have Tony Jr. prepared for West Point Academy. Miss Marion Lippert has just acquired the rarest antique writing table. Jo Anne Werner has divorced her second husband and has been seen dating the Lynch's next door neighbor. That is all the news for the present. This is Sally Harkema signing off."

As I left the store, I decided to hitch a ride. Of all people to pick me up was Frank Warren, who was returning home from work as a mechanic for the press. On the way home I saw Mrs. Ed Gross, the former Hazel Brola, happily weeding onions in her backyard. A little further up the road was Shirley Clauson giving her baby a ride in the carriage. I guess she married the one we all expected her to. A truck passed by with the name Wesley Smith Trucking Co. written on it. This indeed took me by surprise. Our ride finally ended and Frank let me out. I was home at last!

Class Will

We, the Class of 1951, being of (reasonably) sound mind, body, memory, and understanding do make, publish, and declare this our last will and testament.

Lover boy Ronnie Bally leaves his ability to park to any Junior Boy who thinks he can do as well.

To all those in need we leave Camille Barbuti's polite ways.

Joan Bende leaves her ambition to "Taters" Jensen.

The great Thespian Bill Boley leaves his acting ability to Dudley Borowick.

To Walt DuVall, Al Bonauto "The Wheel" leaves his ability to keep his "Big Wheel" well oiled.

Edna Vogel receives Hazel Brola's book entitled, "How to Go Steady and Play the Field at the Same Time."

The ever late Dorris Brown leaves her pull with the main office to Pete Eisma.

Jack Callahan leaves his ability to get the car nights to John Germain.

Margaret Cathro bequeaths her "technique" to Ruth Houston.

We feel that Barbara Freedman can use Shirley Clauson's ability on going steady.

Bert-Mary Coon leaves her neatness to Betty McNamee.

Ernest Creeden finally leaves.

Connie Decker leaves her vocal chords to Muriel Waibel. Hope you don't get a hoarse throat.

Trim Margie Deegan leaves her appearance in a skating skirt to Marty Lewis.

After relinquishing all claims he might have to Goshen Central, Jack Fraser leaves with a free mind.

To Eleanor Polhemus, Frank Grippe leaves his driver's license.

Sally Harkema is taking everything with her, she wants to get ahead at Champlain.

Lorraine Helhoski leaves her poise to Janet Lynch.

To Dave Barbuti, we leave Ed Hernandez's loving techniques.

Jimmy Jones leaves his perfect attendance medals to Don Keeney.

James Barron gets Ronnie Kinsella's laugh.

Marion Lippert leaves her long hair to Adele Pechar.

To Renny Andrews, Stan Liseski leaves his ability to get speed out of a Plymouth.

Betty Love's ability to entice certain male teachers is left to Catherine Quackenbush.

Leota Makuen leaves her S.A. to Mary Luft.

Mary Martin quietly leaves her shyness to Sue Barnes.

Without much regret, Chuck the Mal leaves his bosom buddy Charles Cocks to his fate.

Bob McGarry leaves his collection of black eyes to some up and coming boxer of G.C.S.

To Dagmar Fries we leave the petitness of Lorraine Minkus.

Jack Molnar's unfinished dance lessons go to Caspar Harchut.

Tony Monastra leaves his recipe for Pizza Pie to Trudy Mabec.

Joan Mandato leaves and assures Miss Pope she won't be back next year.

To tiny Johanna Vetri, we leave the towering heights of Marjorie Mulhair.

The Junior Class may need Marion Myruski's sweet smile.

Frannie Phillips leaves hoping "Chuck Hayes" will not be far behind.

To Joe Hawkins, Jack Robertson leaves his ability to get a girl and keep her.

Wesley Smith leaves his position in Honor Society to any up and coming aspirants.

Art Soons leaves his individuality to those in need of variety.

Lois Tice leaves her roller skates to Frieda Turksma.

To Ronnie Fear, Frank Warren leaves his well used corner by the commercial room.

Jo Werner leaves a bouquet of "Forget Me Nots" to that certain under-classman.

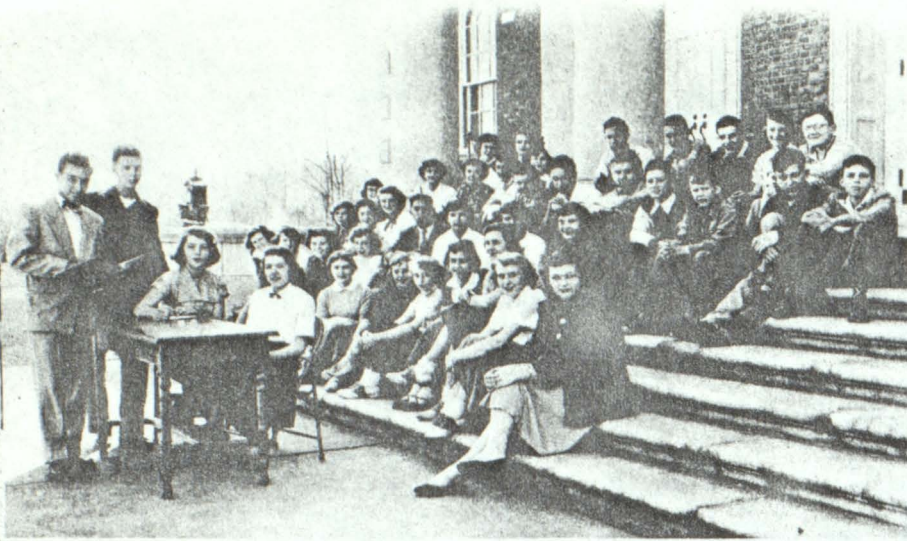

To Jim Derby we leave John Mayo's book "How to Become a Lover in Five Days."

Dottie Smith leaves her ability to put her good posture to an advantage to Jean Sawyer.

Phil Suresky, "God's Gift to Women," leaves his secret formula to Bobby Farley.

Alpha Gamma Girls Hi-Y

After being inactive a year, the Girls Hi-Y reorganized in June, 1950, with the assistance of Obed May, Orange County Y.M.C.A. Secretary. The students who gathered in the cafeteria with Mr. May made plans for the year and elected Dorris Brown President, Francesca Phillips Vice President, Peggy Hopkins Secretary, Catherine Quackenbush Treasurer, and Sarah Harkema Chaplain.

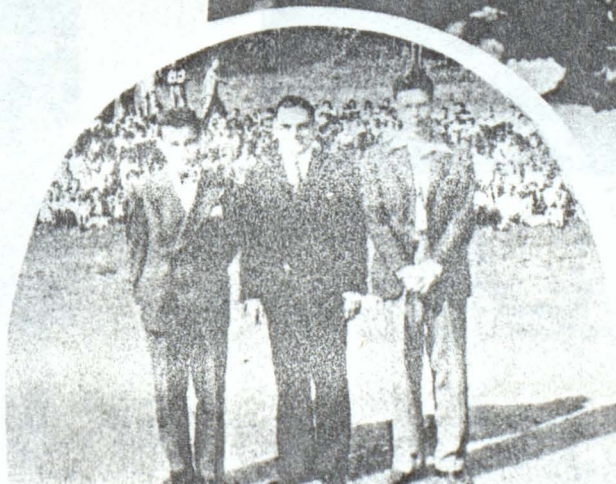

From September until June 1951 the Hi-Y met regularly every Tuesday night. During the year the girls worked on scrap books for a Polio Hospital, gave three Square Dances, a Boston Baked Bean Supper, and sold ice cream at the school.

Organized to promote an interest in photography and to help a student become familiar with simple photography processes, the camera club has covered school activities producing excellent public relations pictures for the Independent Republican and other publications. The Senior class is indebted to the camera club for many of the group pictures in this yearbook and much of the printing and developing.

Dramatic Club

The first meeting of the successful "Goshen Players" was held seventh period, on January 30, 1951. At our first meeting, ten members were present, most of whom were the original cast of the great senior production, "Our Town." Officers were elected: Bill Boley, President; Jack Callahan, Vice President; Bert-Mary Coon, Secretary; and Betty Love, Treasurer, and we chose "On Borrowed Time" to be put into production, and to be held March 2nd and 3rd.

Two weeks before production, the stage crew got together and began preparation on the greatest set in GCS history. It consisted of a cut away house and a spectacular tree that seemed to be causing all the trouble throughout the play, both in the script, and out.

The night of our production was rather a nasty one, but the people that came learned that there is much acting ability in our school, for it was a tremendous success. We could only thank Mr. Hayes and Mr. Tannenbaum for their splendid assistance in producing such a success.

Girls' Sextet

Those at the Thanksgiving Program, Variety Show and Spring Concert will recall the splendid performance of the Girls' Sextet. Miss Newirk carefully guided Leota Makuen, Dolly White, Edna Vogel, Faith Alloway, Arlene Stiller and Barbara Love in harmonious melodies . . . "If I Could Tell You," . . . "Giannina Mia" . . . "Why Do I Love You" . . . Snow White Fantasy" . . . "Tea For Two."

Boys' Octet

To the opening strains of their theme song, "Our Boys Will Shine," the Boys' Octet launched their musical career early this year at the Thanksgiving Program. Following up their success, the worthy eight, Bonauto, B. Boley, Fear, Molnar, N. Boley, Petzen, Monastra, and that low, low bass, Bally, redeemed themselves at the Senior Variety Show. Because of insistent demands but little time, they were obliged to split up and Monastra, Petzen, Boley and Fear formed a quartet, performing worthily at the Spring Concert.

Operetta

This year the Music Council and Junior Class sponsored the Operetta, "Patience" by Gilbert and Sullivan. This was the fifth consecutive year that a Gilbert and Sullivan Operetta had been presented in G.H.S. An operetta gives the students an opportunity to display their musical talent in front of a responsive audience.

"Patience," as Gilbert planned, was to be a satire of the trends in poetry of the day. The targets of ridicule were the two leading movements attracting wide attention at the time, the Pre-Raphaelites led by Swinburne and the esthetic movement as championed by Oscar Wilde. The leading male characters, Bunthorne and Grosvenor, demonstrate great fanaticism and flamboyancy, symbolizing Wilde and Swinburne.

The first scene of the operetta was at the entrance of Bunthorne's or William Boley's castle. A bevy of young maidens, led by Margaret Cathro, Mary Luft, and Dorris Brown were singing a love-sick ditty. They were in despair over the fact that Billy remained totally oblivious to their amorous feelings for him. Lady Jane, played by Faith Alloway, told the ladies that Billy was now in love with Patience, a naive dairy-maid. Leota Makuen as Patience entered and gazed with pity at the lovesick maidens. Leota, never having been in love herself, doubted the desirability of it.

The Thirty-fifth Dragoon Guards entered, led by Charles Cocks, Peter Earle, Ronald Fear and Theodore Tobias. The maidens were too preoccupied watching Billy in the agony of poetic composition to notice the dragoons. Billy played up to Leota, the naive dairy-maid, but she was unresponsive to him. Leota was convinced by the scheming maidens that love is a duty and must be unselfish. She then decided to fall in love with the next man she met who was Grosvenor, an idyllic poet played by Jimmy Petzen.

Billy Bunthorne Boley announced that he intended to raffle himself off. Leota dashed on stage to say that she would be Bunthorne's bride, because she wanted to be unselfish and sacrifice herself.

The rival poets were by this time mutually consumed with jealousy. Grosvenor agreed to change his character and become a commonplace young man. Patience finally turns to Grosvenor, Lady Jane took an officer and all others paired up, while Bunthorne was left to live and die a bachelor.

Soccer

Blanking Otisville 2-0 at their first game, Goshen's embryo soccer squad got off to a fine start in November. In the first quarter after a quick surge up the field, Cherveny belted it in for the only score. From then on things looked pretty black for the Innocents. In quick succession, the other more experienced teams overwhelmed our young, green but fighting squad. Washingtonville, Ellenville, Central Valley, Florida, Cornwall and Cornwall-on-Hudson turned their big guns on us and by the time we again met Otisville we were smarting under the defeats. Then came the change.

Fighting mad, Coach Harold Innocent's squad came out on the field and launched their barrage. With Hernandez and Keeney sparkign them with well-played penalty kicks, and B. Boley, Cherveny, and Osburn treading and booting the ball through, the game ended with a 10-0 victory for Goshen.

Surprising everyone but our confident coach, we finished up tied for fourth place in the league competition. At an assembly the boys were awarded their letters for a job well done.

Donald Keeney carried away the Independent Republican's Best All-Around Player Award. The Sportsmanship award went to Bill Boley and Richard Osburn copped the Most-Improved Award.

As we look back on the season we remember many things. Osburn couldn't keep his hands off the ball . . . Bill "Wrong Way" Boley, scoring for Washingtonville . . . Cornwall game too dark to see them romp over the goal line with the ball . . . "Fightin' Whitey" Zerba, a real tussler.

Jayvee Basketball

The Jayvees hold a much more presentable record than the Varsity. Quite noteworthy was the fine display of teamwork among squad members. Frank and Gene Kolman, Louis Myruski, and Richie Osburn hold the honors in the scoring bracket, while Speirs and Barbuti came along fast.

The two most thrilling and closest games of the season were the Warwick game and the Chester game. Both games went into overtime. In the Warwick game, Goshen eked out a win by the score of 40 to 39. In the Chester thriller, Goshen again emerged on top to win this one 45 to 44.

The most outstanding players were the Kolman brothers, Frank and Gene, Richie Osburn, Louis Myruski, and Dave Barbuti. These five boys will be missed next year by the Jayvees because they will probably be playing on the varsity.

Bill Nye, Leroy Dewitt, and George Walsh will form the nucleus of next year's Jayvee team.

They placed second in the Section Two League games, with the "Durlandville Marauders" on the war path again . . . Osburn's last minute desperate flings at the basket . . . Cooper's aggressiveness with the ball . . . Frank Kolman's righthanded pivot shot.

Basketball

The Varsity basketball team slipped from a last year second place in the Orange County League to a tie for fourth, losing six out of the ten league games. High scorer for the season was Duane Bruen, with Co-Captains Coates and Fraser not far behind. Goshen's over-all record was 5 victories and 11 defeats. The Seniors leaving this June are Coates, Fraser, Robertson and the lately-departed Suresky. Juniors who will be wearing the red and blue into action will be Bruen, Jensen, Starkey, DuVall, and Eisma, aided by Sophomore flash Gillespie.

A quick glance at the season . . . Bruen's last second fling that won the Walden game . . . Phil Coates dominating the backboards and tallying 21 points to tip the scale in Goshen's favor in the second Walden game . . . Jensen, Bruen, and Fraser scoring well but not enough to bring victory against the Middies . . . Highland Falls coming from behind in the final moments of play to eke out the victory the dopesters had predicted . . . Jensen, Gillespie, and Eisma all scoring in the double figure bracket to hold Highland Falls . . . Bruen hitting the pipes . . . Eisma hurling the ball to a friend in the stands . . . Coates vs. the Refs . . . Eisma forgetting to take off his football uniform . . . Suresky registering surprise when a hook shot went in . . .

Wrestling

For the first time in our school history we had a wrestling team. The call went out for grapplers in November . . . fifteen laps around the football field, forty sit-ups, grunts and groans. Man mountain Starkey to and holl Johnson (he on his first match and out weighed by 10 pounds too). The team won 2 out of 7 meets, but, like all Stewart coached teams, learned technique and team spirit. The final match, against superior Suffern's A team, was the proof that the Goshen grapplers had come a long way in one year.

Baseball

The baseball team was learning the hard way this year,—by experience and trial and error, the majority of the team are Sophomores and promise a winning future for Goshen.

The team lost the first nine games but won the tenth from Otisville with Fear and Harchut on the mound. What the team lacked in experience and ability, it made up in spirit. The sluggers were real sportsmen and showed the courtesy that makes a championship team.

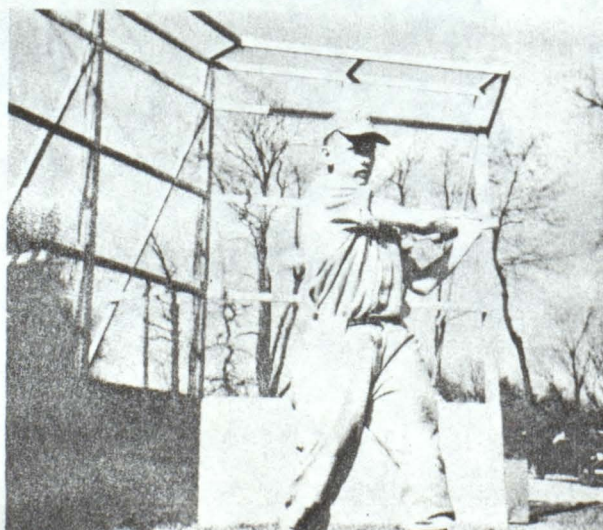

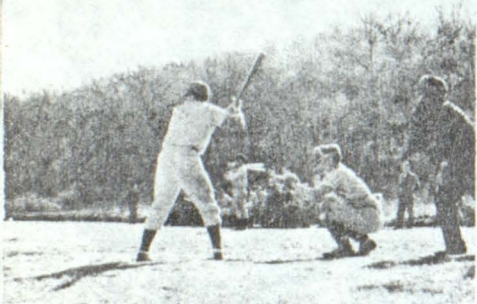

Front Row: Kinsella, Hawkins, Dr. Chertock, G. Kolman, F. Kolman, Lempka, Osburn, Helhoski, Bat-Boy-Hopkins. Back Row: Mr. Fennell, Earle, Fear, Harchut, Myruski, Bende, Cherveney, Mr. Osgood.

Some of the highlights were, a keystone combination of Kolman to Helhoski, big Charlie Bende stretching at first and scooping them up, larruping Lempka covering the center garden, Lou Myruski back behind the bat and Mr. Fennell yelling, "Choke up that bat!"

This team of hardy Durlandville-Hampton boys keep their arms in shape by throwing onions in the summer. With the able veteran, "Wild Bill Hawkins," the team should do better next year.

GOSHEN—The netsters of Goshen Central, making their first season's appearance in Village League competition, continued undefeated yesterday by beating Washingtonville, 3-1.

Goshen Racketeers Grab Mee

The courtmen of Goshen Central School racked up their third consecutive tennis victory yesterday by defeating Washingtonville, 3-1.

on the right foot by defeating Al Lipman of Washingtonville, 6-0, 6-1.

Tennis

Coach George Hays' crack tennis team opened a very successful season by defeating Washingtonville, 3-1. Nicky Boley led off by overwhelming Don Whitefield, 6-1, 6-2. Bill Barnes took the only win for the Washies by downing Bill Boley, 6-3, 6-0. The Boley freres later combined their talents to defeat Barnes and Whitefield 6-3, 6-2 in the final doubles. Tony Wiggernhorn and Phil Young, in the second doubles, drubbed Britt and Roberts, 6-1, 6-1.

Following up this victory with two shutouts against Highland Falls and Monroe, the GCS Netsters were well ahead in the race for the league championship.

Against Highland Falls, George Hays introduced Doug Speirs and Dale Bromley in the doubles. The two came through to down the Raiders' number one men, Wahl and Campbell, 6-1, 6-2. Joe Hawkins and Rennie Andrews began their career against Monroe's Simms and Nogel, beating them, 6-1, 6-1.

As we go to press the Racketeers have yet to beat Warwick, Cornwall, and Montgomery for the county "Davis Cup," but Coach Hays is confident of success for Goshen Central in its first year of tennis competition.
